

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION of DAILY MONEY MANAGERS

Advanced Dive into Medicare Resources

Wednesday, April 18, 2018 at 7 p.m. Eastern (6 p.m. Central, 5 p.m. Mountain, 4 p.m. Pacific)

Registration Ends April 11

*1 Credit hour to Standards of Practice, Types of Expenses PDMM® recertification.

Beyond Medicare 101, we will be taking a deeper dive into the inner workings of Medicare—specifically the resources offered, but difficult to find. These resources will include ways to save money using readily available programs, as well as using tools to educate today’s seniors in the confusing world of Medicare. We will discuss opportunities to ensure seniors are making the most out of the benefits they have worked hard to earn.

Participants will learn what is available to educate and inform today’s seniors and to provide the highest form of service. This will include checking state and federal programs to find premium for seniors, providing government documentation to answer common questions asked by seniors, comparing plans and benefits to ensure the senior is getting a plan that suits their needs and budget, finding programs to help seniors save money on their prescriptions, and more.

Intended Audience: Any individual or group that works with seniors and their financial and medical benefits.

Presenter: Dan Mangus, Vice President of Sales, Senior Marketing Specialist

Dan Mangus’ passion for education started in 1985 when he became nationally recognized for his training role in the Association of Life Underwriters. Many years, and successes later, Dan is now the Vice President of Sales in a nationwide organization, and has educated thousands of advisors on the inner workings of Medicare to ensure seniors everywhere are getting the absolute top service.
