

IMPORTANT MEMBERSHIP NOTICE – JULY 2, 2018

AADMM requires all members pass a background check before becoming a member or renewing effective October 1, 2018. Before applying for membership, you must first provide proof of a passing background check. This applies to all classes of membership, including individual members as well as agencies. The background check must be conducted on the individual wishing to join AADMM, not on the company. Thereafter, the background check must be updated every two years.

Individuals applying for AADMM membership for the first time who have had a criminal background check conducted previously (in the last year) as required for professional licensure, certification, or other status related to their profession may submit that documentation to AADMM's Business Office, in lieu of initiating a new background check. The documentation must include:

- Name of member
- Date of background check
- Explanation of the basis for the background check requirement (licensure, certification, etc.)
- Agency that performed the background check
- Result of the background check (passing only)

This exception applies as well to 2018 renewals of current members.

For the convenience of individuals who have not had a background check performed in the last year (2018 for current members), AADMM has partnered with Global Investigative Services, LLC to administer the required background check. To complete your background check visit their website at:
